FOREWORD

The Juvenile Crime Prevention Division is charged under Section 12333 of the Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1945, "...to direct its attention specifically to the suppression, prevention and investigation of crimes committed by minors under the age of eighteen years...."

It is not desirable for the police to attempt to carry on social treatment; but we are cognizant of the element of treatment invoked in every police contact; and it is the responsibility of the police to make these contacts beneficial, rather than harmful. Depending upon the circumstances, the youth is either detained, released, or referred to the Juvenile Court, the Department of Public Welfare, Child and Family Service, Catholic Social Service, or to some other social agency in the community for treatment. In many instances, the juveniles with minor offenses are counseled and released to their parents.

This Division handles many adult matters in which children are the victims of adult crimes and wrongdoing. Such crimes as Contributing to the Delinquency of a Minor, Indecent Exposure, Sex Offenses, Ill-treatment of Children are examples of cases which usually involve adults.

Statistics is essential as a guide to legislative action, the formulation of administrative policies, and the scientific study of the problems of crime. It enables us to draw inferences regarding the volume and character, the diffusion, the concentration and the trends of crime.

PART I OFFENSES

Murder, manslaughter, rape, robbery, burglary, thefts, and aggravated assaults are the crime in this category. Juveniles were responsible for 1,383 offenses or 55 per cent of all major crimes cleared.

There were 1,633 juvenile arrests, an increase of 247 over 1954. Noticeable increase is noted in larceny. Out of the total arrests, males were responsible for 1,503 while female arrests dropped from 153 in 1954 to 130 in 1955.

The greatest number of arrests among juveniles in 1955 occurred at ages in the following order: 14, 16, 15.

PART II OFFENSES

All other crimes, numbering 20 offenses, are Part II Offenses which showed an increase of 636 arrests over 1954. Except for Forgery, Embezzlement and Fraud, Prostitution, Offenses Against Family, Vagrancy, and Driving Intoxicated, there is an increase in the other 14 offenses. Male and female arrests showed an increase of 420 and 216, respectively.

TRAFFIC

The total arrest for traffic violations was 835, of which only 94 were females. Approximately 400 juveniles, mostly traffic offenders, attended the Traffic School, which was conducted by the Police Department.

INSTITUTE ON DELINQUENCY

Members of this Division cooperated with the Hawaii Probation and Parole Association in the planning and organizing of the Training Institute for Personnel Working with Juvenile and Adult Offenders. The courses of instruction for two 1-week sessions were attended by approximately fifty-five officers. Mr. Dan Pursuit, Director of the Delinquency Control Institute, University of Southern California; Professor Norris Class and Associate Professor John Milner, of the School of Social Work at the same university, discussed the subjects, "Delinquency Prevention Techniques," "Social Treatment of the Offender," "Growth and Personality Development," and "Growing Up in a Changing World."

Two members of the Department participated in panel discussions.

COMMUNITY CONTACT

Our personnel gave talks to schools, PTA's, churches, business and fraternal organizations, and youth groups. They also served on committees of public and private organizations.

More than 120 supervisory checks of dance halls, night clubs, amusement centers were made by our investigators and reserve officers.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT: We express our appreciation to all divisions within the Police Department and other Government departments and private social agencies with whom we work. The continued cooperation of the various civic, business, and fraternal organizations, coupled with the support of every individual and family, will provide the maximum resources available in the promotion of law-abiding youth of today and better citizens of tomorrow.
